

How to get to ML J34.3

Map of ETH Zentrum

ETH buildings can feel like a maze, especially during the first weeks of your studies. So here is a small description of how to get to ML J34.4. Your previous session should be A&D in ETA building. Here is how you get to ML from ETA. Two of the three entrances of the building are shown in the map (red/blue). The A&D lecture ends one hour before the exercise session so if you decide to go chill somewhere else for an hour and come back to the campus via tram; the tram station is right in front of ML (for lines 9 and 10).

Inside ML you have to go up to the J floor which is quite high (plus side: higher chance to survive in a catastrophic flood scenario). There are elevators, you can use them to get to the J floor.
